Behind THE Scenes

THE CLASS OF 2008 YEARBOOK IS DEDICATED TO:

MRS. VIRGINIA MAGNANI, MS. MICHELLE CHOUINARD,
MRS. JOAN GREER, AND MS. MARIA LOPES-MURIN.

Virginia Magnani joined the FHS staff in 2002, and is currently teaching Child Growth and Development, Foods, and Interior Design. Despite the fact that she had to deal with the issues of cancer, Mrs. Magnani has raised three, healthy daughters.

Michelle Chouinard has been teaching in the math department at FHS for nine years. She was diagnosed with breast cancer at the age of thirty. There is a history of not only breast cancer in her family, but also ovarian cancer. Fortunately she should be back to her full health in about one year.

Joan Greer started working at FHS back in 1985, when there were still two high schools. She was diagnosed with cancer in February of 2000, just two weeks before her daughter's wedding. Her biggest fear was that she wouldn't make it to see her grandchildren grow up. With the support of friends and family, Mrs. Greer has made a full recovery.

Maria Lopes-Murin works in the ESL department as a math teacher. She was born in Portugal, and has a very impressive educational background. She, like so many others, has overcome the battles of breast cancer.

In the United States, breast cancer is currently the third most common type of cancer death in women. A 2005 study shows that breast cancer is the most feared disease in the United States, which proves that it takes a lot of courage and hope to deal with such a serious cancer. The diagnosis of any cancer can cause severe emotional difficulties, and that is why several hospitals in the United States contain cancer support groups. Such groups help cancer patients cope with their many issues that they and others are experiencing. Framingham High School would like to dedicate the class of 2008 yearbook to four women who have faced, or are currently facing the difficulties of breast cancer. These four women are honored because of their strength and their ability to continue teaching and inspiring us, during their courageous battle with a potentially deadly disease.

GENESIS

In 1991, Framingham North High School and Framingham South High School combined forces into one. The merging of the two schools was an attempt to bring the students of Framingham together as peers instead of apart as rivals.

Framingham North students gave up their green and yellow colors and their school mascot, the Spartan. They graciously agreed to adopt the blue and white colors and the Fleagle mascot of South High. South students also had the North High building, where we still attend classes today. The school was renamed, "Framingham High School" or FHS. The students gradually adjusted to the new school and today we can't imagine FHS in any other way.

The title, Genesis, was developed in the same year as the North/South merger. Genesis is frequently defined as a new beginning, which rang true for the new Framingham High School students. The yearbook students of 1991 looked upon the merger as a genesis, and we maintain that tradition today. Although we are well past the year of the merger, we think of our education as a genesis.

This is the beginning of a new chapter in our lives.

Nowadays, not a day goes by that our lives aren't constantly interrupted by pop culture. The world is infatuated with the lifestyles of the rich and famous. Within the walls of Framingham High School, you can find a miniature version of Hollywood. Though the latest gossips can sometimes serve as the equivalent to tabloids and media scrutiny, each individual in the student body shines with his or her own talents and gifts like the stars of Hollywood Boulevard.

Just like the celebrities of today's world, the students of FHS face many of the same problems that Hollywood's A-Listers battle. Whether it's friendship dramas or dating dilemmas, we deal with life's obstacles in the same way our favorite stars do.

Though none of us have reached stardom yet, the shining personalities, athletic prowess, and overall fabulousness will guarantee the class of 2008 a spot in the future of Hollywood.

Hollywood, here we come!

STUDENT LIFE

Here at Framingham High, students spend five periods a day in the classroom, with one thirty minute break for lunch. We are able to socialize in the hallways and in the lunch room, and we take full advantage of it. Of course, we manage to socialize in class, too. With today's texting and cell phone technology, we can carry out a secret conversation without even being in the same room.

Students need to work in groups to figure out problems in Mr. Strader's AP Statistics class.

SENIORS 2007 - 2008

Helping Freshmen

August 27-31 2007

Seniors helping freshmen, a student run program, aims at helping incoming freshmen transition smoothly into the high school. The Class of 2008 and their advisors (Mr. Banks, Ms. Kelley and Ms. Popp) helped freshmen in a variety of ways.

150 members of the class of 2008 came out to show their support for the Class of 2011 by participating in the SHF program. Members of the class of 2008 acted as Hallway Helpers, where they gave lost freshmen directions to their classes. Other seniors acted as Homeroom Helpers, and attended freshmen homerooms to answer questions for confused freshmen. This program helps ease the transition for many freshmen for their first week of school and helps build friendships that last for high school and beyond.

Homecoming!

Homecoming is an annual tradition of the United States of America. Towns, high schools or colleges come together, usually in late September or October, to welcome back former teachers and alumni. It is built around a central event, such as a banquet, football game, or a basketball game. When celebrated by schools, the activities vary widely. However, they usually consist of a football game played on the school's home football field and activities for students.

This year's game featured Framingham against Dedham High School at Bowditch stadium. Unfortunately, in the fourth quarter we fell behind and lost. We all enjoyed our homecoming this year!

The Wizard of Oz

May 3-5, 2007

The Characters

There are too many people to name in this play. But the main principles are Sandra Bates (Dorothy), Oscar Soha (Toto), Jane Lyons and Ari Welch (Aunt Em), Adam Engle (Uncle Henry), Nick Sulfaro (Hickory/Tin Man), Mikey Tizzano (Hunk/Scarecrow), Kayon Lewis (Zeke/Cowardly Lion), Joanne Connolly (Miss Gultch/Wicked Witch of the West), Annie Styles and Emily Craver (Glinda) The Wizard of Oz began with Lyman Frank Baum. It was just eight days from his forty-second birthday. He was at home with his family in Chicago on May 7, 1889. On every occasion he would entertain the neighborhood children with a fairy tale about fantasy characters of his own creation. But one year the enthusiastic curiosity of one little girl got the best of her. She interrupted Mr. Baum's story and asked "where did they live?" Mr. Baum's family legend, the soft spoken storyteller glanced around the room until his eyes fell on a filing cabinet. The top drawer was labeled A-N, and the bottom drawer was labeled O-Z. And so was born the marvelous land- of a home for Dorothy, Scarecrow, the Tin Woodsmen, The not so brave Lion, and other outlandish inhabitants of OZ! So that's how The Wizard of OZ came to life.

Flyer Athletics

On many of the sports on this page, Framingham High School has made a name for itself. Over the past four years, we have competed in championships in girls lacrosse, boys soccer, boys hockey, girls swimming, boys swimming, girls field hockey, and more. Every year our talent pool grows larger and Flyer athletic teams grow stronger.

Many sports teams work hard all season and do not compete in playoffs or championship events. Even those teams are winners in Flyer's eyes! Even just trying out for a team requires the commitment and discipline that have become the trademarks of Framingham High School students.

Once you're on the team, the hard work begins! Athletics extend far beyond our school day. Some teams practice at five o'clock each morning or work out after school until five o'clock in the evening. To participate in a sport is not only physical labor but is also a labor of love. To spend so much time and energy working so hard to win games or matches really requires passion and strength. On those days when you're tired and hungry and need to study for a test or write a paper (or both!) it takes a real sense of responsibility and team work to get onto that practice field!

Students have told us that to participate in athletics gives them an extra boost of confidence in their lives. Student athletes say that their team members become their closest friends and confidants. The experiences they share while working together to achieve a common goal will turn to long lasting memories.

Advertisements

Thank you to all of our supporters who purchased an advertisement in our yearbook. The supporters consisted of parents and businesses. Your support helped reduce the price of the yearbook and enhanced the futures in the yearbook. Many students who did not have the money to purchase a yearbook now were able to with your help. Because of your help we were able to keep the colored sections that led to hours of fun in class. We were also able to have many other features such as graphics, a blue and white bookmark, and the news catalogue in our yearbook. Your donations have not only helped the students of FHS but also created great memories for the faculty. Your donations are greatly appreciated and will be returned by the students attending your businesses. Your help made the 2008-yearbook a book to remember for years to come.
